Dear Jim:

I write to follow up on our July 8, 2014 phone call. Further to that conversation, could you please let me know whether the SDI defendants intend to argue that the Sharp plaintiffs should not be excluded from the settlement class? We would be grateful for an answer by July 14, 2014 at the latest, and are happy to discuss at your earliest convenience.

Best regards,

Craig Benson

Mike and Eliot-

Thank you for your e-mails.

Will you agree to stipulate that you will not challenge the timeliness of Dell's opt out notice so we need not waste the Court's time with this issue, or based on your notes below, will you agree you will not oppose Dell's motion to deem the opt out timely, should Dell file a motion?

Regards,
Debra

Debra and Craig,

Like SDI, Hitachi does not waive any rights it may have from your clients' failure to submit timely opt-out notices. If Dell and Sharp file motions seeking to retroactively enlarge the time to opt out of Hitachi's CRT DPP settlement class, we will respond to those motions at that time.

Best,

Eliot

Debra and Craig – this follows up on our recent discussions and your request to provide SDI's position with respect to the settlement opt-out notices Dell and Sharp submitted two weeks after the opt-out deadline for the SDI and Hitachi CRT DPP settlement class.

The June 12 opt-out date was a deadline imposed by the Court, not SDI. SDI does not waive any rights it may have from your clients' failure to submit timely opt-out notices, or any actions the Court may take as a result of such untimely submissions. However, to the extent Dell and/or Sharp intend to file a motion with the Court seeking to retroactively enlarge by two weeks their time to effectively opt out of the SDI and Hitachi CRT DPP settlement class, SDI takes no position with respect to such motion, and will of course proceed in accordance with the Court's ruling on any such motion.

I hope this clarifies SDI's position on this issue. Have a good weekend,

Mike

Debra,

As explained below, the June 12 opt-out date was a deadline imposed by the Court, not SDI, and SDI does not waive any rights it may have based on the failure to submit timely opt-out notices, or any actions the Court may take as a result of such untimely submissions. Speaking just for SDI, if Dell and/or Sharp file a motion with the Court seeking to retroactively enlarge their time to effectively opt out of the SDI and Hitachi CRT DPP settlement class, SDI intends to take no position with respect to such motion (assuming our communications on this point are accurately represented to the Court).
